

Save The Date The Evolving Threat: What You Can Do

Preparing your facility's protective toolkit for today's threats

The United States is facing an evolving and heightened threat environment. Every day, we are at risk from people who seek to do harm and disrupt the American way of life. While this intelligence is often vague, what we can do to prevent terrorist attacks is not.

The Evolving Threat: What You Can Do webinar is a synopsis of some of the latest intelligence analyzed by the DHS Office of Intelligence and Analysis. The briefing will be followed by a protective measures presentation that will arm you to better protect your facilities, your employees, and your communities. The interactive session will combine subject matter experts, video scenarios, and valuable information to enhance your security efforts.

When: Wednesday, November 17, 2010

Time: 1:00 p.m. – 2:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time
3:00 p.m. – 4:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time

Who Should Attend: Security, facility, and operational managers from the private sector, government agencies, and other organizations.

The Evolving Threat: What You Can Do webinar is part of the DHS "If You See Something, Say Something" campaign to raise public awareness of the potential indicators of terrorism, crime, and other threats, and to emphasize the importance of reporting suspicious activity to law enforcement authorities.

Sign up today for this important session. Learn how to recognize, report, and react to unusual activities and threats.

To register, and participate in this important, online interactive threat discussion, visit https://connect.hsin.gov/preparing\_for\_todays\_threat/event/registration.html